Spectacular Floats In Football Parade

Twenty-two floats will be vying for first place Saturday, October 13, in the second annual football parade to be held by the University of Alberta.

Parade Marshal Ivan Head promises that this will be one of the most spectacular affairs to be held by the campus clubs and organizations this year. The parade will begin at 6:30 p.m. on the campus, moving east on 87th Ave., north on 109th Street,

Eskimos-Stamps Team Ribbons Feature of Game

The price of the tickets provided for the football game which will follow the giant Football Parade next Saturday have increased in price slightly over last year.

The tickets, in a block to the north end of the field, are regularly sold for $2.50 plus tax. Parade officials have obtained a 50c reduction for students wishing to obtain these tickets, but the student must this year pay the tax of 25c per ticket, making a total of $2.25 per billet.

Another block of tickets is available in an end section of the stands at $2.00 each. These are regular $2.20 seats, a saving for students at this game of 20c per ticket.

When buying the tickets, which are on sale today and tomorrow at the counter in the rotunda of the SUB, rosters may pick up their ribbons for the team for which they wish to cheer. The committee has prepared these ribbons in both Calgary and Edmonton colors, and it is expected that both teams will have a large Varsity cheering section.

Intervarsity Team Chosen In Tennis

By Don Kent

"As strong, if not stronger than last year's," is the way Miss Elaine Fildes, coach of the intervarsity tennis team, describes the '51 edition.

She released, in an interview Wednesday, the names of the six players who carry the U of A hopes.

In the women's singles, Ev Linke takes over the number one spot vacated by Nancy Collinge. Flora Morrison will be in second position. Ruth Eaves is the third member of the team.

Don McIntosh, top tennis player, leads the men's singles team. He will be pitted against Saskatchewan's best, Ken Hardy, in what should be the best match of the tourney.

Harry Fayerman fills the number two place in the Alberta attack. Ed Trott anchors the powerful team.

McIntosh and Linke combine for the mixed doubles. Morrison and Eaves make up the women's doubles team.

Harry Fayerman and Ed Trott carry our colors in the men's doubles.

With the intervarsity golf team, the squad leaves for Saskatoon on Thursday, Oct. 18. The tournament will be held on the following day.

As the Riverside Courts, where the tournament is being held, are hard surfaced, similar to the ones here at the University, there should be no disadvantage in that department.

Win or lose, we know they'll be trying all the way, and that's the main thing.

east on Jasper Ave., and north on 95th Street, arriving at Clarke Stadium at 7:45 p.m. Three 2-way radios will direct the floats through the route, Ivan stated.

The spirit of rivalry among the floats will also be displayed on the football field as the Edmonton Eskimos and the Calgary Stampeders clash once again. President Andrew Stewart will start the ball rolling by making the kick-off at 8:30 p.m. sharp.

Tickets in section G, H, I for the game went on sale Wednesday noon in the lobby of the SUB and will continue to be sold until Saturday noon. These tickets which are being sold at a reduced price of $2.00, are at a premium, and students are advised to make their purchases as soon as possible.

Half-time entertainment will feature a parade of the floats around the football track with comments on each by Mr. Joe Shooter over the public address system. President Stewart, Mr. Walter Sprague, president of the Edmonton Eskimos; and Mr. Tom Brook, president of the Calgary Stampeders, have been asked to judge the floats and award the Agricultural Trophy to the winner. Also featured will be a drawing for a university sweater donated by the Campus Tog Shop.

"Efforts are again being made to obtain a helicopter to fly President Stewart to the grid-iron," Ivan said.

Last year, as students will remember, the helicopter crashed the day before the game and thus could not participate in the activities.

Whether you are rooting for the green and gold or the red and white, be sure to attend the parade and the football game this Saturday night.

Police Nab Frosh In N.S. Initiation

MARSHAVEN, N.S. (CUP). — Thirty-two students at Marshaven college were held overnight by local police as the result of over-enthusiastic freshie demonstrations early this week.

Shortly after the marching freshies reached Founders' square they were approached by a contingent of police and told to disperse. Several students apparently objected to this and the police moved in with nightsticks swinging. In the ensuing battle two officers and five students were injured and approximately half of the freshmen were taken into custody.

"The students asked for it," said Captain Fergus MacFarlane, chief of police. "They were singing obscene songs and had caused considerable damage along the avenue before they reached the square. They had broken three street lights and several of them were planting a chamber pot on the statue of City Father James McDougall. We gave them a chance to get away peacefully, but when they tried to get smart we moved in." He indicated that many of the students had been drinking.

Marshaven student president Ross Banguo characterized police claims of student damage as "ridiculous". "Students displays have not been disorderly since of class of '29 accidentally disrupted the city water supply after a football rally. The freshies were merely engaging in youthful pranks."

Other student officials suggested that Captain MacFarlane was "trying to get even" for an attack upon police force efficiency in the Marshaven college Torch.

First Art Club Meet To Be Held This Afternoon

The University Art Club will hold its first annual meeting on Friday, October 12, at 4:15 p.m. in Room 303 of the Arts Building. All interested students are invited to attend. The possibility of holding a sketching trip for the following Sunday will be discussed.

Members of the Radio Society, Norm Blamire, second year Engineer, and Cliff McCormick, second year Dent student, explain the activities of the organization to some of the fifty interested students who attended the meeting recently in the music room of the Students' Union Building. Heads of the other departments in the society also give brief talks on their plans for the year.

Public Speaking Club Holds Meet Monday, Oct. 15

First regular meeting of the Public Speaking Club will be held Monday night at 7:30 in Hut B. All prospective members are especially invited to attend.

No matter what your faculty or course, some day you will probably have to make a speech. Why not learn to control the butterflies now? In the Public Speaking Club you will have ample opportunity to practise this very practical art.

Radio Society Has Excellent Turnout

Thursday, Oct. 4, an encouraging number of radio enthusiasts gathered in the Music Room of the SUB. Here the script writers, radio actors and announcers, technicians, experienced and tyro, laid the ground work for the year's broadcasting schedule.

President Joan Bishop gave a short speech, and then introduced the directors of the various departments, who gave an outline of their basic plans.

Amidst the clatter of radio talk that followed the formal meeting, Bruce Haack, the Radio Society's popular musician, entertained on the piano.

Last Thursday another meeting was held, at which time the program schedule for the year was outlined, and an audition date was set.

The auditions are for both announcers and budding radio dramatists, so if you are interested come along even if you have not been to any of the previous meetings.

A play has been planned for the first broadcast and thereafter as often as the talent and suitable scripts will allow.

Film Society Select Features For Year

H. P. Brown, secretary of the Edmonton Film Society, announced this week that executive members of the society had already selected titles of the feature films to be shown this season at each bi-monthly meeting of the organization and that season membership tickets were now being sold.

Meeting the second and fourth Mondays of each month during the winter, the society of a type not regularly seen houses in addition to a number of shorts. Two showings are held on each meeting day, one at 4:30 p.m. for the convenience of students, and the other in the evening at 8:00 p.m.

Starting the year's program off on October 29 is the British film which many members of last year specially requested, The Red Shoes. This technicolor drama which tells the story of life in a European ballet troupe and stars Moira Shearer, Lionide Massine, Robert Helpmann and Marius Goring.

Commemorating the tragic death of pioneer film documenter Robert Flaherty, two of the director's best loved films will be shown. These are the silent pictures Nanook of the North and The Man of Aran. It is hoped that the BBC recording of Flaherty's own account of how he came to make Nanook of the North will be on hand.

On November 26 the society will screen a pre-war Russian film entitled The Childhood of Maxim Gorki. Completing the first half of the season will be the old American silent comedy, The Navigator, which stars Buster Keaton in the title role.

The first film to be shown in the new year will be one of the greatest all-time film experiences. Shakespeare's Henry The Fifth. While it is probable that most film-goers have already seen this movie, Film Society members felt that nearly all would wish to witness the pageantry

"Royal Society" Address Topic By Visiting Briton

Dr. D. C. Martin, Assistant Secretary of the Royal Society, spoke on "The Royal Society" on Tuesday, Oct. 14, in Med 142. His talk was sponsored by the Science Association, U of A, and the Edmonton Branch of the Royal Society of Canada.

A tea in Med 136 preceded the speech.

Dr. Martin traced the history of the Royal Society from its informal beginnings to its present important position in Great Britain.

Black and white slides of statistics pertinent to the Society and colored slides showing paintings hanging in the Society's chambers were shown.

The real beginnings of the Society go back to a "Philosophical College" in 1645. Early meetings were held in the Bull Head tavern and private lodges in London.

Charles II, Founder

Two groups were soon formed. The Oxford group met until 1690 and the London body met until 1688.

Charles II had, among other pursuits, an interest in science. When he heard about the society he gave it his support, becoming the founder of the "Royal Society of London for the Promotion of Natural Sciences," the full name.

Dr. Martin said that it is now also the British National Academy of Sciences.

Fellows of the Royal Society are divided into men who are actively engaged in science and men outside of science "of unusual distinction" in their fields. G. M. Trevelyan, the historian, is among the latter members.

The members are drawn from the British Commonwealth. At present 17 fellows are from Canada, of whom nine were born in this country.

The youngest fellow, the Duke of Edinburgh, was elected at the age of 26. Sir Isaac Newton was elected at the age of 29. He served as president for 20 years.

More than half the fellows are between the ages of 40 and 49. The largest single group is 40-44 years old.

Royal Society's Influence Great

In scientific research the Society is closely associated with the universities, industry and government of Britain. Cambridge has 57 fellows on its staff, while London with 47, Oxford with 32, Edinburgh with 14, Manchester with 12 and Liverpool

Edmonton Firm To Tackle Problem

In a special closed session held Wednesday night in the Council Chambers, Students' Council voted to accept the bid of Housez Ltd. for the production of the 1951-52 edition of the Evergreen and Gold.

Before hearing representations from the firms bidding on the job, Council reviewed an outline of the budget for this year's E and G. Based on the estimates of enrolment and office expense, it was found that the E and G will have an operating capital of about $14,500 for the coming term. This is a considerable drop from that of last year, caused mainly by the decreased enrolment and higher operating expense.

Cost of the individual page to campus clubs and organizations will be at $65.00, according to Marv Leitch, Director of the '51-'52 book. This represents an increase of $15.00 over the price of last year, but is unavoidable due to higher production costs, stated the Director.

The purpose of the special meeting was to hear the tenders of the firms interested in producing the yearbook this year. Motion of Council agreed to allowed the executive body to work out the fine details of the contract with the firm selected.

Mr. Jack Housez of Housez Ltd., the successful applicant, outlined his firm's plan for a book which would stay within the budgetary requirements of the yearbook. He emphasized that if the book is to be out on time the firm must work in close collaboration with the Director in order to maintain a rigid schedule.

It was made a condition of the contract that the book be ready by convocation next spring. The experience of the past few years when the book has not come out until the fall caused Council to seek this assurance from the firm.

Housez Ltd. agreed to provide the same quality paper and especially covers as were used in producing the '49-'50 edition of the E and G.

The purpose of Council in asking for this contract with the commercial firm is to assure the students that a book will be produced. In the past it was found that the job was too large a one to be left entirely to students, and as a result 'last year a contract for the production of the E and G was let with an Edmonton agency.

The results of the plan are not yet fully known, since the first edition to be put out under the new scheme is still not ready for distribution. Council felt that the scheme was practicable, however, and agreed to let the contract for this year's book to Housez.

with 10 follow. Other universities in the British Isles also have fellows on their staffs.

The chief research officers in industry are fellows of the Royal Society. £70,000 has been raised in Britain and $30,000-$40,000 in Canada for a chemical research memorial to Lord Rutherford, who did much of his work in Canada.

The Society spent over $4,000,000 in research funds last year. The money was provided by the universities, government and industry.

In return for skilled advice, the government makes equipment available to the Society for research. Recently a Royal Navy submarine was used in the Mediterranean to study undersea gravity.

Prof. Salter, chairman of the regional branch of the Royal Society of Canada, thanked Dr. Martin at the conclusion of the talk.

Students Crowd Athabasca Hall For House Dance

Over 500 students flocked to the first residence house dance of the year at Athabasca Hall on Saturday night.

The dance, which featured George Wilkie and his orchestra, also provided prizes for the lucky spot dance winners.

Miss Maimie Simpson, Professor H. T. Sparby and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Ryan were patrons and patronesses.

The Men's House Committee were in charge of arrangements for the evening. The members of the House Committee include Bill Allison, president; Pete Bazowski, vice-president; Mo' Bright, secretary; Sam Shachowich, treasurer; John Beckingham, social; and Mike Ostafichuk, sports.

New Telephone Eases Congestion

Relief of telephone congestion at Pembina is in sight now with the addition of a phone on the north wing of the third floor. This phone is for the use of students on the 2nd and 3rd floors of the north wing. Would-be suitors are asked to make use of this phone if the object of their conversation is a member of the before-mentioned location.

The three telephones for the Pembina are 31868, for girls on the basement and 1st floors; 32141, for girls on the 2nd and 3rd floors of the south wing; and 34703, for girls on the north wing of the 2nd and 3rd floors.

Important Notice

ATTENTION!

Students are requested not to make any arrangements regarding student pictures in the Evergreen and Gold until they receive further notice through The Gateway and Alarm.

All Are Welcome At Comm Club Ball

"Bankers' Ball" will be the theme of the Commerce Club's dance to be held Friday, October 12, in the Mixed Lounge of the Students' Union Building. There will be dancing from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. with Jack Nisky and his orchestra providing the music. Admission will be 75c for men—girls free of charge. All music students are invited to attend.

Cherchez l'homme

Say, fellas, have you noticed the "looks" you are getting lately from the girls around the campus? It only means that the Wauneitas are on the warpath for some handsome Braves to escort to the big Wauneita Formal. This is the one dance of the year when the girls take out the boy of their choice . . . and so the girls are really looking the men over.

The date for the Formal is Friday, October 19th, when dancing will be held in the Drill Hall from 9 to 12:30 a.m. to the strains of George Wilkie's Orchestra. We hear from "Rumor Row" that the decorations will be quite out of the ordinary and that the Wauneita Council has taken every opportunity to make this a really first-rate affair.

Following the dance a reception will be held in the Wauneita Lounge from 12:30 to 2 a.m. Here the girls will feed refreshments to the lucky males.

Tickets for both the dance and the reception will be sold in the SUB lobby each day, October 15th to 19th, between the hours of 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Girls foot all the bills for the evening, so the fellas really get a break.

So, girls, hurry, hurry, hurry after those dates. There are plenty of specimens around!

One last reminder: Please, no corsages!

Reform Required

One of the anomalies of the Students' Union Constitution was clearly illustrated at Council's first meeting of the year. In considering applications for the position of Secretary, the Council was faced with the question of whether one of the applicants was eligible for the office. The applicant is in the second year of what is commonly called the Pre-Med Course. According to the Students' Union Act, the Secretary of the Students' Union shall be a member of either "the senior or junior year for the year in which he holds office." Elsewhere in the constitution a Junior is defined as an undergraduate in the third year of any four, five or six year course or an undergraduate who is registered in the second year of any three year course; a Sophomore is defined as an undergraduate in the second year of any four, five or six year course.

The question was whether she was a Sophomore and ineligible or a Junior and therefore eligible. After some discussion Council ruled that she is at present in the second year of a three year science course and therefore qualifies as a Junior. Whether or not she at some time in the future enters Medicine is of no concern at present.

The Gateway has no comment pro or con on the applicant's ability to fill the position of Secretary. What should be pointed out is this inconsistency in the Constitution that allows one student who is in his second year on the campus to hold office and disallows another, simply because one is expected to hang around longer than the other.

A student's ability to fill a position on Students' Council should be the determining point, not the probable length of his university career. A student in second year Engineering should have as much right to run for Secretary as a student in second year Commerce. The Students' Union Constitution should be changed accordingly.

Are You Satisfied?

One of the most popular features of The Gateway in years past has always been the "Letters-to-the-Editor" column, "Betwixt and Between." So far this year, not one letter for publication has come into The Gateway office. We would like to remind students that the pages of The Gateway are always open to the free exchange of opinion. Letters must give the writer's correct name and address, but a pseudonym may be used for publication.

Campus news is the task of The Gateway staff, but opinions must come from the students themselves. It may be that everyone is satisfied with everything. We doubt it.

Student Street

by Dave Gell

How inspiring.

"Her Majesty is now seating herself at the Banquet Table. A hush falls over the assembled dignitaries. Among those present we see the left-honorary Joe Smith, assistant to the vice-presidentially inclined help for the esteemed position of assistant dog catcher. Seated next to him is his charming wife tastefully dressed in a lace taffeta, chartreuse-striped pink straight-jacket.

"The royally selected musicians, having been screened by a carefully chosen board of the seigniorials of the St. Lawrence; their political leanings, blood type, religion, I.Q., P.Q. and S.Q., having all been carefully determined, are placing themselves, following their tributes, rites, lefts, ups and downs—before the assembled guests. Placing their gold-plated flutes to their mouths, the flautists are preparing to present the opening notes of the 'Breakfast Parade' in three movements, by the well-known Canadian-born composer, Dmitri Dnoopeptrov Yakabakavidski (the second)—Preludium nausea; medio mediocrati; and finis thanksgodum."

How inspiring.

"It was in this same banquet room that Jacques Cartier first set fire to an Indian, as a tribute to all he held dear. Now, I think, wait . . . yes, I think so . . . the moment has arrived—AT LAST . . . SHE IS PICKING UP A SPOON! Cameras are flashing! Microphones are miking . . . uh mugging? . . . working, yes! And the many cameras of Associated Neen Skews, G.M.G., and American television cameras are grinding away . . . silently, for her benefit, of course. Now! the spoon is being inserted into the bowl of porridge (scotch broth, of course, the Stuart influence, bridging the gap between them and the Hanoverians), and an historic moment in the greatest of Canadian events is with us now. SHE IS PUTTING THE SPOON (manufactured by Roger B. Sterling Brothers, 1952, Canada, Limited) IN HER ROYAL (may I say) MOUTH! "We will pause for a second to see if we can pick up the sound of the royal mastication, with our microphones . . .", etc., ad nauseum.

How inspiring?

Got a hot tip this week from a spy in New York gambling circles. There is, he says, definitely no doubt as to who is to win this year's World Series pennant. We are now prepared to take, on the strength of his word, two to one odds, that this year New York will win.

Finding myself buried in an igloo in the far north for eighteen days with absolutely nothing but a copy of the last Gateway, I read it from beginning to end, with the exception of one column. However, as the drugery became more and more unbearable, I read even IN THIS CORNER. How one Bertram Neblick could feel himself capable of writing about anyone (he threatened to reveal all about yours truly) is beyond comprehension.

As a matter of fact, it is quite inconceivable that he could write anything. Having had to deal with Qwert in last year's Gateway, we are now being confronted by another idiot. C'est la vie!

We're about a week tardy in doing so, but at this point would like to congratulate Eva Saito for a really fine performance a week ago Sunday, at the concert held in SUB. Bouquets, also, of course, to Jeanne Rogers and her accompanist for their admirable presentation.

If someone doesn't put some felt padding on the metal clocks in the new library . . .

Rhodes Scholarship Applications Due Nov. 1

Eleven Rhodes Scholarships are now open for Canadians and will be awarded early in December. Applications must be in by November 1st, 1951.

These Scholarships are tenable at the University of Oxford, England, are of the basic annual value of £400, but are increased at present by temporary grants to £500 per annum. They are granted for two years with the possibility of a third year. Scholars may follow courses of study of their own choice. They are required to go to Oxford in October 1952.

Selection is made on the basis of school and college records without written examination. The qualities which will be considered in making the selection are: (1) Literary and scholastic attainment; (2) Qualities of character, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness and fellowship; (3) Exhibition of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in one's fellows; (4) Physical vigour, as shown by fondness for and success in outdoor sports. Some definite quality of distinction, whether in intellect or character is the most important requirement. Financial need does not receive special consideration.

One scholarship is allotted to Alberta.

Conditions of Eligibility

- (1) A candidate must be a male Canadian citizen or British subject with at least five years' residence, and with the intention of permanent residence, in Canada. He must be unmarried. A Rhodes Scholarship is forfeited by marriage after election.
- (2) A candidate must be of such an age that he will have passed his 19th, and not have passed his 25th birthday by October 1st, 1952.
- (3) He must have completed two years of study at a University in Canada by October 1st, 1952.

(4) A candidate may apply either for the Province in which he has his ordinary private home or residence, or for the Province in which he has taken his University course. A resident of the North-West Territories will have only the latter alternative. A resident of Prince Edward Island will have the latter alternative unless his University course has been taken in Prince Edward Island, in which case he shall apply in either Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. No resident in a Province other than Newfoundland may apply for a Newfoundland Scholarship on the grounds of a University course taken there.

For each Province there is a selection Committee, which will be responsible, subject to ratification by the Trustees, for deciding whether candidates comply with the foregoing conditions, and for making the nominations.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the University Registrar, or from the Secretary of the Selection Committee for Alberta, R. L. D. Fenerty, Esq., Insurance Exchange Building, Calgary.

Application forms are available in Arts 239.

Silence Is Golden

At a recent ISS meeting the topic at one point was the annual fund raising.

Joe Brumlik: "There are so many canvassers now that most people get in the habit of saying 'No'."

Dave McDonald: "Students don't get that much experience saying 'No'."

The girls present kept silent.

Returns From Europe

DR. D. M. HEALY

Department Head Works On Thesis While In Paris

Dr. D. M. Healy, recently returned from a trip to Europe where he did research work in French Literature, has resumed his post as head of the French Department of the University.

Dr. Healy spent most of his time in Paris at the National Library, working on his forthcoming thesis. He was able to observe something of the French contemporary scene, however, and he states that living conditions in the old world appear to have improved considerably since his last visit in 1946.

"There are more consumer goods on the shelves including more food," he stated. Students in France have found that the high cost of living has imposed additional burdens which must be overcome if they are to obtain a higher education. After his months of work on his thesis, Dr. Healy was able to obtain a short vacation in Greece. "The trip was very enjoyable," he said, "I saw Greeks, rocks and more rocks."

Graduating from the University of Alberta in 1931, Dr. Healy spent some time at the University of Paris obtaining his Ph.D. from that University.

Dr. Healy's knowledge of European languages made him an invaluable asset to the Canadian Army in which he served with distinction during the Second World War. Lt.-Col. Healy served as an undercover agent behind the German lines in the Italian campaign for several months. It was for this service that he was awarded the M.B.E.

Manitoba Grads Praise Facilities Of Union Building

"Oh, and it's so big!" was one of the comments that the SUB received from two University of Manitoba graduates that were giving the campus the once over last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Ediger took time off to drop down to The Gateway office to see how the paper was put out. They stated that The Manitoban staff would turn green with envy if they saw the space that was available for the staff.

Besides stating that their SUB had the periodic habit of collapsing every other year, the said that Alberta had the finest Students' Building this side of Manitoba. The Rutherford Library received its share of "Oh's" and "Ah's". "I just can't understand how students can help but want to work, with all these lovely buildings," Mrs. Ediger said, a past member of the Manitoban writing staff.

Nothing Sacred

- - - by The Saint

While sauntering about the campus the other day, I am sorry to say that a most grievous situation was forced upon my attention. The first shock came when I greeted a young buck hobbling along on crutches, his face a pallid mask that twitched spasmodically each time his bandaged left leg scraped the ground.

"Gad man!" I cried, "what's the matter?" "Nothing, really," he replied. "I broke my leg. The infirmary's out of commission, you know, and while it's being moved there's no place for me to stay."

"But must you be up and about?" I queried. "I'm afraid so," he sighed with a rattle. "I don't know where to get an absence slip, so I'm on my way to P.E. now." He hitched up his crutches and staggered by.

I had barely recovered from this when I saw John Q. Pinchpenny approach off the starboard bow. Poor old J.P.'s face was the color of last year's yellowed laundry. In answer to my worried expression, he offered:

"Yellow jaundice. No infirmary, you know. If I don't pull through they've promised to refund my medical fees." Rubbing his hands together and cackling gleefully, he passed on, took two short halting steps, and fell prone.

I emerged from SUB caf after a bracing coke and was confronted with what I at first thought was a picnic on the SUB's lawn. A small group of people gaily dressed in white were grouped about an object which, upon nearing, I perceived to be a recumbent figure. I sneaked up and peered over their shoulders.

"Appendectomy!" one of the interns hissed. "Deuced shame not having the infirmary."

A snick of the scissors revealed that the operation had been successful. At this stage of the game I began to be thankful that I was enjoying perfect health. Careful attention through the rest of the day revealed inoculations being given in the shadow of Caf, three people roaming about afflicted with smallpox, five more in the throes of yellow fever, three with German (West German, of course) measles, and a woman in childbirth behind the drill hall.

Now, I ask you, fellow students, is this playing the game? Is this cricket? No! Is this a home for the aged and infirm or is this a university? I say, let's get an infirmary, or if we can't get that let's shoot all the infirm ones, bury them, and not mess up the campus this way.

Magazine Offers Board Positions

Mademoiselle magazine is now accepting applications from undergraduate women for membership on its 1951-52 College Board.

Girls who are accepted on the College Board do three assignments during the college year. Assignments give College Board members a chance to write features about life on their campus; to submit art work, fashion or promotion ideas for possible use in Mademoiselle; to develop their critical and creative talents; to discover their own abilities and job interests.

College Board members who come out among the top twenty on the assignments win a Mademoiselle Guest Editorship, will be brought to New York next June to help write, edit and illustrate the August College issue. They will be paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York City.

While in New York, each Guest Editor takes part in a full calendar of activities designed to give her a head start in her career. She interviews a celebrity in her chosen field, visits fashion workrooms, newspaper

'Phone Manners At Athabasca Hall Said "Deplorable"

Students at Athabasca Hall have a deplorable show of telephone manners, and it is about time that Emily Post or someone with a bit of know-how taught those ruffians manners. A member of The Gateway staff phoned Athabasca Hall last Tuesday to get in touch with a Gateway reporter, and received telephonic abuse. The young gentleman that answered the phone refused to go to the second floor, but led the staff member to believe that he was going to contact the reporter. Instead of going to get the party, he very quietly hung the phone up. Needless to say, he was very thoroughly rebuked when the vicious plot was uncovered.

News 'n Views From Other U's

By ORMA WALLER

The Manitoban is again up to its usual high standards of female puchritude with a display of ten stunning wenches on its front page. Two former U of A students were in the lineup for the title of Queen of the Royal Rendezvous, annual freshman dance. This proves that the men on this campus either have poor eyesight or just do not appreciate women.

Overheard on the campus: A Freshie's Prayer, "Forgive us our sins as we forgive our Sophomores."

WINNIPEG (CUP).—Night clubs, theatres, and celebrity concerts will be available to university students at cut prices. This miracle may be wrought by merely flashing a student's union card.

SASKATOON (CUP).—U of S will be honored by a visit on Sunday, October 21, by Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip. The Royal couple will tour the campus as part of their visit to Saskatoon. A special committee has been formed to handle plans with representation from the university administration. It's expected that the tour will take 15 minutes.

KINGSTON (CUP).—Male students were reminded that any invasions of the women's residences will be regarded as major offences. Last year heavy fines were levied on a group of students who were found guilty of this offence, and the court issued a warning that even more drastic punishment would be meted out in the future.

QUEEN'S JOURNAL.—Freshman Walter Shisko conducted his own case on a careless driving charge in Kirkland Lake recently. Shisko told police his car left the road following a blowout, but authorities could find no marks on the road indicative of a blowout. Case dismissed on grounds of insufficient evidence. Maybe he should switch from Science to Law.

KINGSTON (CUP).—Many returning students found the rooming house situation acute on Queen's campus this week. It is hoped that the shortage will be relieved before it becomes necessary to sleep all night in the lecture rooms instead of just during lectures. Maybe some civic minded individual will sing, "Come on—a my house."

Hobbies, Etc.

RUSSIAN ROULETTE.—This is an innocent little family pastime with several popular variations that can accommodate any number of players. Originally played by two to six persons, it goes something like this: One cartridge is placed in one chamber of an otherwise empty revolver, the gun is closed, and the cylinder is given a gentle spin, analogous to the shuffle in bridge. Then, beginning with the dealer, each player in turn places the muzzle to his head and pulls the trigger. The loser, quite naturally, drops out, as in musical chairs. As many deals as are wished may be played. It is screaming fun; in fact, it is killing. This amusement enjoyed a resurgence in the 30's, being adapted to every kind of equipment from the slingshot to Big Bertha, and for a time threatened to overshadow miniature golf. Played alone, the game soon loses interest. Larger groups, however, find that constant reloading of the gun keeps the game going at a good pace. Experimental groups are now trying fascinating variations to add life to the pastime: Prime among these are connoisseurs who load not one, but two, three or more chambers at a time. An enthusiastic group of newcomers announces they will not be satisfied until they have tried six. Considerable interest hangs upon their conclusions.

THE SILHOUETTE.—Four students who graduated in honors Romance language courses at McMaster University have been awarded scholarships for post-graduate study.

THUNDERBIRD FIELD, Phoenix, Arizona.—The degree of Bachelor of Foreign Trade, authorized for the first time for members of the June 1951 class at the American Institute for Foreign Trade, will now be given.

MCGILL DAILY.—A "No Activities Week" will be observed from November 19 to 25. No doubt this has been set up by the Students' Union to offset the results of Frosh Week.

ADULT EDUCATION.—James Muir, president of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, announced that the Fund for Adult Education with headquarters in Pasadena, California, will make a special study of adult education projects in Canada. This project will serve to stimulate the interchange of ideas about the whole field of adult learning between the two countries.

MONTREAL (CUP).—W. G. Murray (founder of the McGill Daily) recently gave personal glimpses of Professor Stephen Leacock at the occasion of the unveiling of the Leacock Memorial.

COED.—A female student pursuing a course of study granting her the foresight to say "yes" and "no" at the right time.

I.O.D.E. Offers Nine Scholarships

In order to perpetuate the memory of the men and women who gave their lives in defence of the Empire in World War I, the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire established a War Memorial, of which the leading feature is hveeb

These scholarships are tenable at any University in the United Kingdom. The scholarship may be awarded for a second year to the same candidate. Reports of the work done during the tenure of the scholarship will be asked for from the professors under whom the holder of the scholarship is studying.

2. Each scholarship is of the value of $2,000 a year. The payment will be made in three instalments, payable at the London branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, the first ($600) on or after October 1, the second ($600) on or after December 1, and the third ($600) on or after March 1. Payments will be made in sterling at the exchange of the day.

3. If, in any year, in any Province, there be no first-class candidates, the scholarship shall not be awarded.

4. The Order expects that all who hold these scholarships will return to Canada and work there after the completion of their work in a British university. The Order will give any assistance in its power to help a returned Scholarship-holder to secure a position in Canada.

5. A Committee of Selection is appointed in each Province, consisting of the three representatives of that Province on the National War Memorial Committee, and two or more others (men or women), chosen by the I.O.D.E. members of the Committee.

6. The selection of a candidate will take place during November 1951, unless the re-appointment of the holder of a scholarship is being considered. In that case the selection will be made not later than January 25, 1952. The candidate selected will hold the scholarship from October, 1952, for a year. The appointment is subject to cancellation at any time by the National Chapter, on recommendation of the War

Memorial Committee, if the successful candidate does not continue to show fitness to hold the scholarship.

7. The scholarships are awarded under the following conditions:

(a) Candidates may be men or women, and must be unmarried until after the tenure of the scholarship. They must be British born, or naturalized allies, or naturalized neutrals, with at least five years' residence in Canada. They must have passed their 19th but not their 27th birthday in October of the year during which they first hold the scholarship.

In the case of Ex-Servicemen, they must have passed their 19th but not their 34th birthday in October of the year during which they first hold the scholarship. But any candidate who has applied unsuccessfully in one year, and who was then eligible, may apply in the following year. Each candidate must hold a degree from a recognized University or degree-granting college in Canada, and must have done, or be doing post-graduate work. A candidate shall apply in the Province in which the University is situated from which he or she has graduated, irrespective of her or her place of residence in Canada, except when a candidate has moved as an undergraduate from one Province to another; such a candidate may apply either in the Province where he or she attended a University or in the Province where he or she has taken his or her degree.

(b) In awarding the scholarship, the Committee of Selection will consider academic attainments and promise, and also personal character and physical fitness. Other conditions being equal, preference will be given to a veteran's sister, brother, son or daughter.

(c) Arrangements will be made for the Committee of Selection, as a committee, to meet the candidates before the final decision is made, unless such interviews are considered utterly impracticable. Each committee will also endeavour to make sure that the record of the

DO WE REALLY NEED A BANK?

- Students on this Campus do not need a bank because:
 - The Registrar got it on the first day.
 - Abbott will get it anyway.
 - Ernest's Fire-water dispensary will get it eventually.
- The proper place to keep your money is:
 - If you are a man, in the toe of your socks.
 - If you are a lady, in the heel of your girdle.
 - If you are the third sex, put half in each place.
- Before you deposit any money in the bank you should:
 - Read what Leacock has to say about his banking adventures.
 - Read what Karl Marx has to say about capitalists.
 - Red Jimmy Valentine's book on how to make withdrawals.
- The Treasury Branch refuses to set up business on this campus because:
 - Lloyd's refused to quote on bank-robbery insurance.
 - There were not enough votes on the campus and the next election is a few years off.
 - A new bank would disrupt the Provincial Economy, by raising the elasticity of demand for rubles.

"Welcome" Dance Held By EUS

This term's EUS slate of entertainment made an impressive entrance with the Mixer Dance held in the Education Auditorium on Friday, Oct. 5. A friendly atmosphere prevailed with welcome posters and individual "dog tags" revealing name, faculty and other vital statistics of importance.

Joe Johnson's orchestra provided music for this get-acquainted function which was well attended by members of the Education Faculty and students from the entire campus. Along with the usual waltzes and fox-trots was a mixer one-step which ended in a roofter's toothin' square dance called by Jean Grusz.

During intermission, cokes and dixie cups were served in the cafeteria.

ISS Given New Name At Meet Held In Bombay

World University Service was adopted as the name for the organization now known as the International Student Service (ISS) at a conference at Bombay last year. Until the name WUS has become more widely known, however, both names will be used to identify the organization.

The new name was adopted as more correctly identifying the organization, which includes all levels of the University staff and students, both graduate and undergraduate. The designation International Student Service implies that only students are associated with the organization, and this is far from the truth.

The organization, which was conceived to give expression to members of the world University community, concerns itself with both material and academic needs on the University level. After the war the basic drive behind ISS (now WUS) was to help rebuild Universities, and to supply relief to the war-torn countries. The group is now beginning to enter the more educational phase of activities.

The organization has its international office at Geneva, Switzerland, and is financed by contribution from the member national groups. Canadian national office is in Toronto.

In the words of the constitution of the association, "World University Service" has as its object the expression and promotion of international University solidarity. World University Service encourages and supports all efforts on the part of students, professors and others to meet the basic material needs of the universities and centres of higher learning and their members, and to make the universities true communities and real centres of national and international life. World University Service seeks the achievement of international university solidarity through mutual service in activities such as the extension of assistance by those members who are materially better situated in the world university community to those members who are in immediate need; and particularly such assistance in developing co-operative enterprises to meet long term needs; the mutual sharing of experience gained in attempts to resolve basic university problems; and the bringing together of students and teaching staff of all races, nationalities, political and religious convictions, and social and economic backgrounds, in order to establish through human encounter that basis of international understanding from which a spirit of international solidarity can be borne, and a concern for activities of mutual service can be created.

World University Service is non-partisan and works without discrimination to race, nationality, political or religious conviction.

There is a novelty song currently in vogue that says, "How do you do, and shake hands, state your name and business." That in effect is what I propose to do. We can safely dispose of my name by a quick glance at the byline, and I extend a written if not material handshake. There remains now only the matter of my business. Briefly, it is this: It is my hope that through the confines of this column I will be able to keep Education students, and the campus in general, aware of events and opinions taking place in the Faculty of Education. Principally, this column is devoted to informing Ed students of events particularly important to them.

While it may be disputed that writing primarily for one group is rather limited, and not deserving of newspaper space, we must take into account the fact that Education is one of the largest student bodies on the campus, and all events taking place there cannot possibly be of interest to everyone. However, it is hoped that most of the material presented here will be of general interest. At any rate, we feel that a potential of over six hundred readers warrants admitting material that may not be of general interest to the campus as a whole.

Turning to sporting matters, the Ed touch rugby team turned in a sparkling performance the other night by downing Assiniboia 7-0 in a regular game. Stan "Cisco Kid" Syska of the Phys. Ed. Dept., sparked his mates by his fancy running that brought the only touchdown of the game. In fact, after watching the Ed team display their wares, I am confident enough to predict that the Eds will come out "top dog" in touch rugby, among other sporting events in interfac. If I am wrong, may all my grandchildren become Engineers!

Taking a whirl in the social world your writer attended a small supper party last Friday evening for Bob Harris and his brand new spouse. The event was sponsored by this year's EUS executive in conjunction with last year's executive and was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson. Bob is a fourth year Ed student who has been a long standing member of the EUS executive, and his wife Joan is a present Arts student. Among the guests present were Hon. Presidents Dr. Couits and Mr. Hodgson, both accompanied by their wives. We would like to extend the best of everything to the newly-weds (providing a couple one month old in marital relations may still be classified as such).

Well, we shall see you next week—allowing, of course, for an act of God or the editors.

By the way, any of you males on the campus who think it a hardship to be taking Education will be interested to know that the female population in Education outnumbers the male by approximately two to one. That kind of a hardship I can take!

See you around.

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Television brings far-away events to your eyes. Most metal parts of the tubes of the television camera and the receiving set are nickel or nickel alloys.

The heart of long distance telephone service is the vacuum tube—its metal parts are nickel or nickel alloys. Nickel alloys increase the efficiency of transatlantic cables. Men and women the world over are neighbours—with the help of nickel.

Neighbours the world over with NICKEL

Hundreds of everyday uses for Nickel have been developed by the Nickel industry through a planned program of research. Today a large share of Canada's Nickel production is being diverted from peacetime uses into channels for preparedness. So the Nickel mine facilities, greatly expanded over the past decade, are again being operated at peak capacity. There is actually more Nickel now being delivered by Canada to the free world than in any peacetime year.
